Chamber of Commerce News

The Seaside Chamber of Commerce recently averted a serious community problem. But it is only partially solved. To completely solve the problem, the chamber recommends that local businesses takd advantage of local talents and resources in order to work toward a better employment distribution by hiring more minority group employees whenever possible.

The chamber has a special interest and responsibility to guide this community in the wise use of its resources. They may not see a problem in the same perspective as the rest of us, but they do have the ability to weigh social equalities. As a result they feel they must promote such action that will prove fruitful to these young people who need the assistance of the entire community and that is jobs.

For help from the chamber call 394-6501.

In order to gain support for their efforts to improve the community the chamber needs a larger membership.

There are many businesses and individuals in the community that are eligible for chamber membership, but who have not joined.

The Seaside Chamber in November of last year invited a representative of Small Business Administration to make a presentation on their Local Development Company program. At that time interest was expressed by a number of local residents to form such a company.

On February 7, several of the interested parties, who are also very concerned about Seaside's economic situation, met to organize a Local Development Company. This group is in the process of incorporating, but needs more members. If you are interested in getting involved, contact Jim Likas, 394-3662.

The Seaside chamber is cooperating with Young Life of Monterey County in their Second Annual Invitational Bed Race. The event will start at 2 p.m. this Saturday, February 27 at Gateway Automobile Center.

There will be eight races plus the finals, involving up to 18 beds. The beds are entered by Young Life Clubs of Monterey County and Northern California as well as other high school clubs in our area.

Pony-Colt League Needs Managers

The Seaside Pony-Colt League, Inc., will hold their registration day on March 6 at 10 a.m. in the Seaside Youth Center. Any youngsters wishing to join the league should be at the registration. The fee, which includes insurance, is $7.

Tryouts for the Pony League will begin March 13 at 10 a.m. at Del Ray School.

Tryouts for the Colt League will be held May 15 and 21 at 10 a.m. at Seaside High School.

The League is not only issuing a call for players, however. They are also in desperate need of managers and coaches.

Anyone interested should call Joe Ferreira at 394-1427 (work) or after 5 p.m. at his home 394-7427.

Meeting Will Discuss Some Social Issues

Social issues and possible State Legislative action will be discussed tomorrow (Friday) night at Monterey Peninsula College by Mr. Joe Gunterman, Sacramento lobbyist for the Friends Committee on Legislation.

The 7:30 meeting is open to the public and will be held in the Library Lecture Hall.

The Friends Committee on Legislation is a non-partisan political action group, organized by Quakers but receiving broad support from many persons outside the Society of Friends.

It concerns itself with legislation in such fields as welfare, farm laborers' rights, conversion to a peacetime economy, prison reform, housing and abolition of capital punishment.

Doris Sloan, FCL Administrative Secretary in San Francisco will also be present and will explain the FCL information program which provides newsletters and legislative directories from Sacramento and Washington, D. C. and action alerts to interested persons.

Students and the public are invited to attend. There is no charge.

Kinetic Art Series Two Coming

"The Kinetic Art: Series Two, a collection of 22 short films selected from studios and festivals around the world, will be shown in three programs of some eight films each February 27 and March 5 and 6 at Monterey Peninsula College.

The series though reminiscent in flavor or "Kinetic Art: Series One" - which drew large audiences when shown at MPC in fall 1968 - is completely new.

Seven of the films are receiving their world premiere including "Egypte, O Egypte," written and narrated by Jean Cocteau. Seven others have until now been seen only in film festivals. Eight are by American film makers. All have been chosen for their "contrasts, variations and awareness of the factor of film style."

An early showing at 7 p.m. and a repeat showing at 9 will be presented in the MPC music hall for each of the three programs.

Program One, this Saturday, February 27, will include "Egypte, O Egypte," produced by Jacques Brissot, as well as works by Frank Roddam (England), Lasio Lugossy (Budapest), Jan Svankmajer (Prague), Gerard Pires (France) and American film makers Stan Vanderbeek, John O'Conner and Len Glaser.

Program Two, on Friday, March 5, will be highlighted by "Marie Pour Memoire," the first film by the major new French director Philippe Garrel to be exhibited in this country.

'tickets for each performance are available at the college's community service office or may be purchased at the door.

New Safety Law Going Into Effect

"Safety Second!" seems to have been the slogan of all too many Americans at their workplaces during past years, with spiraling statistics on job-connected injuries, illnesses and deaths that reached an appalling level of 14,000 killed and two million hurt last year.

Safety and health at work have been moved up to first priority with the passage late last year of the federal "Occupational Safety and Health Act," signed by President Nixon December 29.

According to Ken Hedberg, western chief of the U.S. labor department's workplace Standards Administration, the law will go into effect throughout the nation on April 28 and apply to some 57 million employers and workers.

Hedberg summarized highlights of the new job and safety act in these terms:

. It applies to all businesses in interstate commerce except for mining and railroad industries, which are covered by other laws.

. Employers must observe job safety and health standards set by the secretary of labor; inspectors will be made to ensure compliance. Violations are punishable through the courts.

. States that want to set and enforce their own standards may submit their plans to the secretary of labor for approval. Federal assistance grants can be made to states.

. The federal department of Health, Education, and Welfare (HEW) will help develop criteria for job safety and health standards. HEW will also publish information on occupational illnesses and make inspections to reduce their incidence.

Hedberg added that the new job safety and health act also provides for direct loans to small businesses to help them comply with the law and requires federal agencies to conduct job safety and health programs of their own that are consistent with the standards.

A new national commission of state workmen's compensation laws has been authorized by the law, to consist of 15 members appointed by the President. They will study and evaluate state laws on job health and safety and report to the President and the Congress by July 31, 1972.

Hedberg said the new law calls for the designation of new assistant secretary of labor for occupational safety and health.

Copies of the new Occupational Safety and Health Act together with related explanatory materials are available through any U. S. Department of Labor office, Hedberg said, under "U. S. Government" in the white pages of the telephone book.

May LeeMok Will Appear At Her Show

Professor May Lee Mok, author of a cookbook, "The Fine Art of Chinese Cooking" and teacher of Oriental art and cooking, will be visiting the Monterey Peninsula today (Thursday).

She may be seen at the Seaside City Hall around 4 p.m. where she is being honored with a one-woman show of her Chinese paintings during the month of February by the Seaside Art Commission, celebrating the Chinese New Year of the Boar.

Mrs. May Lee Mok, born May Loo Su Hwa at Shanghai of artist parents, studied art at Peking Normal School, married a Chinese diplomat, went to live in Manila, where she was very active in social circle and where she picked up a fantastic collection of cooking recipes. Now she can do over a thousand.

After her husband died in World War II, General Douglas McArthur helped her and her two boys to come to USA with legal aid from former Congressman John Allen, Senator Bill Knowland and President Harry Truman.

In 1948 she became American citizen. Shortly after she remarried and moved to Seattle.

Now she is living in Berkeley with her son's family, teaching Chinese art for UC. She also teaches adults at YWCA the fine points of Chines cooking and painting.

This is the first one-man show she has held in our Peninsula and next month she will have a one-man show at the famous Oakland Museum.

UFM Having Film Festival

A two-day Ron Rice film festival will be staged under the auspices of the University for Tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday, at 8 o'clock each evening in Monterey Peninsula College's Lecture - Forum 103.

Rice, one of the first experimental film makers of the early 60's in New York, died at the age of 27. His works have been shown in many universities and been viewed and acclaimed by such noted producers as Bergman and Fellini, according to Mike and Amy Margolis, who obtained the films for their MPC showing.

"Flower Thief" and "Senseless" will be screened Friday, "The Queen of Sheba Meets the Atom Man" and "Chumlum" on Saturday.

Tickets will be sold at the door.

Recall Alive Again

Seaside's original recall movement, which began last November, has gotten another chance.

An order by Superior Court Judge Anthony Brazil makes it necessary for Seaside city clerk Milton Farrell to accept the recall petitions filed by the Seaside Citizens for Good Government.

Farrell refused to accept the petitions, when Benard J. Dolan, president of the citizens group, originally filed them in early January.

Farrell refused to accept the petitions against councilmen Stephen Ross, Oliver Murray, Pearl Carey and Gerald McGrath because he said they did not contain enough valid signatures.

However, the citizens group, which was represented in the court action by former Seaside city attorney Saul Weingarten, contended that checking the validity of the signatures was not Farrell's job. He should have, they said, accepted the petitions after counting the signatures, without checking their validity.

Judge Brazil agreed with the citizens committee and ordered Farrell to accept the petitions.

A check by the county registrar will be made on the validity of the signatures. The final status of the recall will not be known until then.

County Gets State Funds For Crossings

The California Public Utilities Commission recently allocated $14,037.71 to Monterey County to assist the county in paying for its share of the costs of improved crossing protection at Blackie Road, Chualar River Road and Foletta Road and the track of the Southern Pacific Transportation Company.

The county and the railroad agreed to share equally in constructing the new protection, which consists of two flashing light signals with automatic gates at each of the crossing.

Total cost of construction was estimated to be $17,064.33 at Blackie Road and $39,086.51 at Chualar River Rd. and Foletta Road.

The PUC allocation from the Crossing Protection Fund will pay half the county's share of construction of the project. The fund was established by the legislature to assist cities and counties in providing increased protection at railroad-highway grade crossings.

Many wonderful things are beginning to happen in this city of ours. These are things that you wouldn't believe could have happened just one or two years ago.

Movements are taking shape in spite of the constant rumblings from city hall or maybe it is because of the rumblings at city hall that some of the people and leaders in the community have gotten together to help find jobs for some of the unemployed. These little politicians at city hall with their childlike squabbling, haven't had the time to take care of the problems of the unemployed over the last few years, so it up to groups like the Seaside Chamber of Commerce, which has established some new leadership in their ranks, to take over and lead us to some solutions.

For example, a program for uniting the businessmen and some of the other organizations to do something about the unemployment, especially the employment of minority workers, was announced by the Chamber of Commerce. A meeting of Seaside merchants, representatives of the Young Adults For Action, the director of the Monterey Service Center, Steve Ross and representatives from the Seaside Chamber of Commerce was held to plan and implement a program to employ more of the unemployed in and around the City of Seaside. I think that we can expect some results from the plans that were being laid at this recent meeting. I feel this strongly because of the new leadership

Talcott Proposes Increases

Congressman Burt L. Talcott announced that he has introduced legislation to provide automatic cost of living increases in benefits to senior citizens covered under the Railroad Retirement Act, H. R. 1711.

Talcott stated, "A three percent increase in the Consumer Price Index during a calendar quarter would automatically increase benefii payments the same percentage with a $3 minimum."

During past Congresses, the majority leadership has been far too slow in bringing legislation providing increases in benefits to the House for consideration, according to the congressman.

"The present Social Security bill is a prime example of this. Due to Senate filibustering, final action on this measure was delayed until shortly before adjournment of the Congress. There was insufficient time to resolve the differences between the House and Senate versions. It therefore died with adjournment and now must be re-considered. My bills are designed to correct this problem," stated Talcott.

"Inflation and continuous increases in the cost of living have most adversely affected our retired citizens. In an effort to alleviate this inequity, I am hopeful the congress will take immediate action on my proposals," concluded Talcott.

PG&E, Cities Develop Land For Recreation

Laughing youngsters play, adults stroll and school children walk where weeds once grew.

This briefly describes 15 recreation projects which have been developed in recent years on land used for Pacific Gas and Electric Company transmission lines in 12 communities.

Picnic and rest areas, tot lots, small parks and pedestrian walkways have been installed on portions of PG&E rights of way ... Local governments, in cooperation with the company, obtain consents or term agreements to use PG&E rights of way corridors.

"The company is responding to requests to help meet urgent needs for recreational facilities created by a growing shortage of open space in crowded urban areas," said Nolan H. Daines, manager of PG&E's land department.

"For many years we have been developing public recreation facilities as a by-product of our hydroelectric generating plants in the Sierra.

"Although we'll continue to develop such facilities, much attention will be given to PG&E's recreational program in metropolitan areas."

In addition to making land available, the company cooperates with local governments and neighborhood groups in planning and installing recreation facilities.

Typical of the developments already in use is the Columbian Gardens neighborhood park in Oakland.

This project is a cooperative effort involving the Columbian Gardens Improvement Association, Oakland Parks and Recreation Department, University of California Department of Landscape and Architecture, Oakland and East Oakland Rotary Clubs and PG&E.

In use are a paved basketball court, picnic tables and swings. An imaginatively designed children's play structure will be installed soon.

In Palo Alto the San Mateo County Recreation and Park District has developed Kelly Park, a playland for children, on right-of-way land purchased from PG&E. The park also has a recreation center for indoor activities. The company black topped part of its adjacent Belle Haven Substation property for public parking.

Other cities in which recreational facilities have been developed on PG&E transmission rights of way are Hayward, Los Gatos, San Jose, Sunnyvale, Santa Clara, Mountain View, Millbrae, Manteca, Bakersfield and Fresno.

PG&E has installed a picnic and rest area on company land adjacent to its Humboldt Bay generating plant near Eureka to accommodate the many fishermen who visit the site. Fishermen have learned the warmed water discharged by the plant into the bay attracts a large fish population.

Daines said all requests for recreation projects on company property are carefully screened to determine whether the proposed use would endanger the safety of the public.

"We know the rising cost of land is making it prohibitive for many communities to develop needed recreational facilities," he added. "We want to cooperate in efforts to meet this need."

Daines said other types of recreational uses and methods of enhancing the environment which may be considered are nature trails, tree farms, nutritional gardens for needy families, bicycle tracks, greenways and walks linking schools and homes. Such uses, he added, must be compatible with PG&E's power operations on the land and acceptable to adjacent neighbors.

Bill Will Speed Up Court Cases

State Senator Donald L. Grunsky has introduced legislation aimed at speeding the work load of California courts by permitting a criminal jury to return a verdict by vote of 5/6ths majority, rather than by unanimous vote.

The bill does not however, change the requirement for a a unanimous verdict in the penalty phase of capital cases.

Grunsky said, "The problem of conjestion in our courts has been criticized for some time and is so important the United States Chief Justice has called for imaginative reforms in criminal justice to alleviate the present intollerable clogging of our courts.

"One such reform can be in our jury system, which this bill seeks to do, by increasing the efficiency of the courts. Other suggestions, not included in this bill, have been to reduce the number of jurors in criminal and civil cases and eliminate the right to a jury trial altogether in petty offenses," Grunsky said.

Grusky, who also is a practicing attorney, explained that eliminating the requirement of a unanimous verdict in criminal cases "will probably do more toward strengthening the public's support of the jury system and renewing their confidence in our courts than any of the other proposed reforms".

The Senator pointed out that today more juries are unable to reach unanimous verdicts than ever before in history and each of those cases ends in a hung jury and mistrial, subject to being retried. In some of the more populous counties prosecutors are reporting that upwards of 20 percent of the felony cases are ending in hung juries.

Grunsky said, "The cost of retrying these cases and insuring that justice is done is staggering. The retrials are adding to the court congestion. District Attorneys believe that while not all of these cases hang up by votes of 10 to 2 or 11 to 1, such situations are certainly in the large mayority."

The Congressman pointed out that proposals for less than unanimous criminal verdicts is not novel. England who gave us our heritage of the right to a jury trial, has itself eliminated the unanimous verdict requirement and provided for verdicts of 10 to 2.

Oregon has had such a law for decades and it has been upheld by that state's highest court since 1936. George Van Hoomissen, Multnomah County (Portland District Attorney, reports that it is so satisfactory that proposals for change have not even been submitted to the Oregon Legislature or State Bar Association.

Grunsky also said less than unanimous verdicts are the rule of Montana, Oklahoma, Texas and Idaho for offenses below the grade of felony and exist in Louisiana for offenses where the punishment is hard labor.

Discussing the bill further, Grunsky pointed out that there is a question as to whether or not such a change in the California Constitution would conflict with the Sixth Amendment right to a jury trial provision of the Federal Constitution. The U. S. Supreme Court did consider some questions regarding jury trial in the last term, but the precise question of less than unanimous verdicts was never decided.

Grunsky said that this question is before the court now and should be decided before the term ends in June, hopefully to permit a less than unanimous verdict.

Litter Index Shows Decline

The National Litter Index, compiled annually by Keep America Beautiful, Inc., has registered a sharp decline for the second consecutive year.

The anti-litter organization reported that its 1970 Index stands at 94.27, four points below 1969's 98.26. The Index, established in -964 with 100 as the base figure, reached its peak in 1967 with a reading of 102.82.

The Index is based on the cost of litter removal from along state roads relative to miles traveled along these highways by motor vehicles.

The litter removal costs are supplied by the 50 state highway departments, mileage by the U. S. Department of Transportation and the hourly pay of highway maintenance crews (a third factor in the Index) by the Department of Labor.

George W. Ososke, executive vice president of the California Brewers Assn. which has long been active in the fighting the litter menace, said the sustained 2-year drop in the index is a major victory for the organizations and individuals who have joined the campaign against litter.

He also said that the can and bottle reclamation programs established in virtually every California community are playing an important role in the reduction of litter.

Computer Reservations Are Success

State Parks and Recreation Director William Penn Mott Jr. said recently that if the first full month of operation is any indicator, then his department's new computerized campground reservation system is a resounding success.

Since January 4, Mott revealed, when the more than 230 Ticketron terminals around the state began accepting reservations for campsites at State Park campgrounds, nearly $50,000 in advance sales have been recorded.

This amounts to more than 4300 tickets sold to reserve some 15,500 nights of camping.

What makes this so remarkable, Mott added, is that this represents sales only through the month of April, since no reservations may be made for more than 90 days in advance.

"This is the first year we have had such a limit," Mott said. "Now, those who cannot plan their vacations more than a few months ahead or early in the year will not be at a disadvantage--they will have as good a chance as anyone else of getting a campsite in any state park they choose."

Mott added that reservations for Hearst Castle tours are also available at Ticketron terminals.

If none is handy, reservations for both campgrounds and Hearst tours may be made directly with the department at its headquarters in Sacramento.

For information and reservation forms, write or visit the Reservation Office, State Department of Parks and Recreation, 1416 Ninth Street, Sacramento 95814.

FEWER DEATHS

Waterfowl losses to botulism in California totalled 23,000 birds this year as compared with the loss of 117,000 birds in 1969, according to the Department of Fish and Games Only 8,000 birds were lost in the Tulare Lake Baisn, the state's traditional botulism hot spot.

represented on the committee. I think that these leaders are truly dedicated and will handle the problem on a "now" basis. Already questionnaires have been sent to the merchants and many replies have been received.

These new leaders are: representing the merchants and the Seaside Chamber John Bean, Chairman, Don Butts, Joe Ferreira, Stan Stewart and James Wester; representing the Young Adults for Action Rudy Collins, Mrs. Louise Fraley, James Golden, George Solomon, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Lorenz, Trevor Laing, L. McClain and Tommie Cross; representing the Service Center Stephen E. Ross and Miss Thomasine Dillard acting as secretary for the group.

I concur and applaud the following statement received from Steve Ross on behalf of the Monterey Peninsula Area Service Center:

"We consider this to be a positive and important action of goodwill on the part of the Seaside Chamber and the merchants of Seaside, to go an extra step toward elevating the unemployment problem in the area of Seaside. We also commend the Young Adults for Action in taking the initiative in doing something about unemployment in the Seaside area. We urge support for the program, from all the people in the Seaside area, especially those in business and in a position to hire one or more employees. We also appeal to those in need of employment to come in and register with us (Service Center) or the Young Adults for Action, so any positions found may be filled, as soon as possible." For further details call the Seaside Chamber of Commerce, Chairman Mr. Bean, 394-6501; Young Adults for Action, 394-8558; or the Service Center, 373-1381.

This long-needed step by the Chamber of Commerce, together with the related action being taken by the new "Affirmative Action" group which is currently meeting with the representatives of the construction industry to provide for more jobs for minority workers in Santa Cruz, San Benito and Monterey Counties should begin to bring the long-needed stimilus for solution of the unemployment problem in this area.

Another activity started by a wonderful group of people who feel that the future of Seaside lies with the creative talents of our young people is also to be commended. They have planned a series of programs for children up to the third grade every Saturday, which features "Sesame Street" the successful and delightfully entertaining TV show.

The first of these parties was held in the offices of The POST last Saturday and will continue for the next few weeks. They will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30. Paste, pound and paint material is made available for the children to create with while they watch the show. Everybody is invited, so bring your young ones. There will be someone there to love and watch them.

Who needs City Hall when there are people like these mentioned in this column. I thought that a short poem written by the beautiful lady featured in our "FACES AROUND THE BAY," Frances Ryan Nixon, in her recently published book "Vision" fit this occasion.

The poem is entitled "NOW."

NOW is the time, NOW is today,
NOW is the forever of All Way.
The past is gone like the darkness of night;
I'm assured of fulfillment, for I walk in the light.
Knowing the Father's wish to give me all good,
I say, "I AM! I CAN!, not, "I wish I could."
I accept the blessings of the All-seeing
As they pour forth into my being.

Cranston Bill Will Protect State Laws

Senator Alan Cranston has introduced a bill that would protect state and local pollution control laws from being automatically invalidated whenever the federal government passes legislation in the same field.

California's laws controlling airplane emissions have been in effect since 1969, but were struck down January 1, 1971, when the federal Clean Air Act went into effect.

Cranston noted that because of federal pre-emption, California's hands are tied in prosecuting more than 100 violations cited by the Los Angeles Air Pollution Control District.

The Burbank ordinance prohibiting jets from taking off from the Hollwood-Burbank airport between 11 p.m. and 7 a.m. was invalidated by the courts, also plans to introduce additional legislation to insure that state anti-pollution standards remain in effect even after federal government acts, if state regulation are tougher than those laid down by Washington.

A companion bill will be introduced in the House this week by congressman Alphonzo Bell.

Cranston's bill, which is co-sponsored by Senator John Tunney, would specifically provide that "no provision of federal law shall pre-empt or nullify any state law, local ordinance or regulation for the prevention or regulation of air or water pollution, noise, the use of pesticides or herbicides, or the disposal of solid waste, until such time as regulations in lieu of such state law or regulation are put into effect by, or pursuant to, federal law."

Who Cares

By Mel Vercoe

Victory at last. It took a long time, but we have finally achieved victory in Vietna, according to Major General George Eckhardt, the commandant of the Army War Collegs and in his position he certainly must know. General Eckhardt declared victory in a speeck at La Jolla a few days ago.

U.S. Senator Philip Hart of Michigan was so elated he told the Senate about it on February 19 and suggested a victory parade on Pennsylvania Avenue.

General Eckhardt's opinion must also be pleasing to Senator George Aiken of Vermont who suggested a year or two ago that the U.S. could get out of Vietnam by simply declaring the war won.

Readers employed in war industries, etcetera, should not panic, however. Because of language barriers and other communications problems (our government does not know, of course, that anybody in the U.S. can send an air mail letter to Hanoi for 25 cents or can send a telegram there within a few hours for 34 sents a word or $3.74 for a 22 word night letter), it may be a while before the fighting actually stops in Asia.

When Gen. Eckhardt's statement finally does get to Hanoi that we have won the war, I presume North Vietnam will be just as happy as we are about it because it will mean we will then withdraw our forces and get ready to send them to the Middle East.

Gen. Eckhardt did not mention the oil leases being sold by the Saigon government to some big oil companies, but I expect that the oil companies are also very pleased that we have won the war for Saigon because if we had not and North Vietnam had taken over South Vietnam, there might have been some legal problems with getting refunds from Ky and Thieu, who would by then be living in Paris spending the oil lease money.

Your Social Security

By: Raymond MacDonald

Q. I'm planning to employ a housekeeper in a few months and I understand I will be responsible for sending in her Social Security contributions. Do I do this at the end of the year or more frequently?

A. You should report every 3 months--in January, April, July, and October. The cash wages you pay your housekeeper, or any household worker, count for Social Security if they amount to $50 or more in any calendar quarter. You report the wages and pay contributions during the month after the calendar quarter in which the wages are paid. For example, if you pay your housekeeper $50 or more duirng the first quarter of the year (January, February, March), you should send the Social Security contribution (both her share and yours) and a report of her wages to Internal Revenue Service no later than April 20. For the second quarter (April, May, June), the report will be due by the last day of July and so on. At the end of the year, you are required to give your household employee a statement of the total wages paid during the year and the total amount of Social Security contributions deducted from those wages. You can get copies of the form you need from any Internal Revenue Service office. Only cash wages count--not room and board or other kinds of payments. The $50 rule also applies to anyone else who works in or about a private home--a cleaning woman, maid, handyman, butler, gardener, or chauffeur.

Union Carbide Had Big Year

The employee payroll at Union Carbide Corporation's Mining and Metals Division plant in King City reached $675,000 during 1970, according to a year-end review by manager Floyd H. Larrison, Jr.

At the same time, Larrison said, the local economy benefited by the $1.6 million which Union Carbide spent for property taxes, materials, supplies and services.

The King City plant, which produces asbestos, manufactured and shipped some 16,000 tons to customers located throughout the United States, Europe, Japan, Australia and other world markets.

Larrison noted that the local plant is the only one in the world which uses a bydraulic beneficiation or wet process in producing asbestos.

Union Carbide customers use asbestos in the production of paper products, vinyl asbestos floor coverings, oil well drilling mud.

Letter to the Editor

I would like to thank you personally for your most helpful support of Proposition 20, the $60 million recreation and wildlife bond act on November 3 ballot.

We intend to move forward at once with the program outlined in our presentation to the Legislature and to the voters, and will make a special effort to keep you informed of our progress.

First, of course, we must sell the bonds. We are asking that $10 million worth of bonds are sold before the end of this fiscal year -- this will provide us with the money to do advanced planning. We are budgeting $8.6 million for expenditure during the 1971-72 Fiscal Year.

Sincerely,

William Penn Mott Jr.
Director
Department of Parks and Recreation

Questions are Answered

Q. Is a disposable portable emergency oxygen kit covered under the Medicare program as durable medical equipment? The kit generally consists of a supply of oxygen in disposable containers, a face mask, and a tube connecting the mask to the container.

A. No. Portable emergency oxygen equipment, whether or not disposable, is essentially a first aid item as opposed to equipment designed to meet the patient's current medical needs. The intended use of this equipment is to administer an emergency supply of oxygen which itself is not covered. However, an oxygen regulator has been determined to be durable medical equipment Thus, when an oxygen regulator is used in conjunction with a portable oxygen unit to adapt it to the patient's current medical needs, the unit is covered.

Q -- My father died in wartime service. I am 20 years old and going to college under the War Orphans Educational Assistance Program. I earned $800 last year. Will that prevent me from receiving VA benefits?

A -- No, there is no limit on your earned income.

Q -- I am a disabled veteran receiving additional compensation for my 17-year-old son who recently enlisted in the Navy. Must I report his enlistment to the VA, and will VA stop the additional compensation because of his enlistment?

A -- The answer to both questions is "no". The additional compensation will continue until your son reaches 18, regardless of his military service.

Q -- My son received 36 months of training under the Dependents Educational Assistance Program and has now been ordered to active duty. Will he still be eligible for educational assistance under the G. I. Bill?

A -- Yes. If your son serves on active duty at least 181 days and receives an other than dishonorable discharge, he will be eligible for addtional education assistance. A veteran may use up to 48 months when he is entitled under two or more programs.

Bob Wood Reports

That decayed old issue of mandatory withholding, a procedure similar to the Federal plan for collecting State income taxes at the time the income is earned, is back with us in the Legislature this session and I wouldn't be a bit surprised to see it passed this time.

As far back as 1962 it was one of the major issues in the gubernatorial campaign and the fight continued through each legislative session, I understand, despite the fact the experts say withholding would bring in 150 million in new money to the State Treasury.

The Governor, in the past, has always adamantly opposed this plan. I remember it well because during the first special election right after the death of Alan Pattee, I came out for such a plan and I was condemned by a few for not agreeing with the Governor at that time on this particular issue.

There are, of course, arguments for and against withholding. On the positive side, it would stop the escape of those who leave the State without paying or filing their personal income taxes. And, some say it is far less painful for the small taxpayer to have the State withhold each week or month out of his paycheck rather than have to pay in one large sum once a year.

Businessmen would find the system convenient, not only for them but for employees, to collect taxes, since Social Security, Federal income taxes, union dues and other payments are already withheld. On the other hand, it is claimed the worker, seeing his weekly paycheck dwindle through withholding, would demand a higher take-home paycheck from his employer, thus resulting in higher to the consumer.

In spite of the arguments pro and con, the latest poll shows that Californians favor a withholding system and I think this time the Governor is well ready to go along with it.

It is understandable to see the Governor's viewpoint when you have a look at the State Treasury and realize that every conceivable source of income is going to be investigated in an attempt to balance the budget before taxes themselves have to be raised.

I think most of us agree the intent of the Governor in attempting to hold the budget without increasing taxes is good. But, as a former County Supervisor, and as a taxpayer along with all the rest of the citizens of Monterey County, I feel it is good only if we do not have to pass any additional expenses on down to the County taxpayer in order to hold the line on the State level.

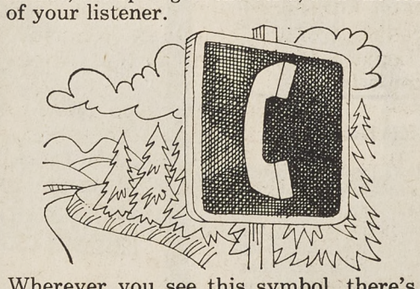
THE PHONE BOOTH

If you ever make a long distance telephone call and get a poor connection or get cut off, we don't want you to pay for it. Fortunately these things seldom happen, but if they do, here's what to do: just hang up, call the Operator and explain what happened. We'll get you a good connection. Our product is communications. Clear, crisp communications. And we don't want you to pay for anything less.

I'll bet a lot of you don't realize that your telephone has a "parking space" built right into its design. A glance at these illustrations shows you how easy it is to "park" your phone receiver if you must leave your conversation for a moment. It's handy for you, and you'll save the finish on your furniture, the spring in the cord, and the ears of your listener.



Wherever you see this symbol, there's a public telephone nearby. Signs like these are being used more and more throughout the United States and Canada and will make it easier for travellers to locate public phones.

The construction of our new business office on Munras Avenue is progressing on schedule, and we expect to move in around July 1st.

NEGRO HISTORY WEEK LUNCHEON

The Sunset Room in the La Playa Hotel in Carmel was the setting for a luncheon hosted by Mrs. Leroy (Charlie) Knight, who is coordinator of Compensatory Education for MPUSD, in observance of Negro History Week, on Saturday, February 13.

Approximately 170 males and females attended and heard the guest speaker, Dr. Ruth Love Holloway, a very dynamic and spiritful speaker. The title of her talk was "Women's Liberation from a Black Perspective--The Myth of the Matriarchy." Dr. Holloway held her audience spellbound for 45 minutes as she spoke about women's liberation and the myth that the black family is female-dominated. She said the myth is divisive to black males and females. She referred to black male leaders such as Dr. Martin Luther King, Frederick Douglass, Whitney Young, among others and declared that it is a disservice to black children to perpetuate the myth. Her philosophy is that all people must be free or no one will be free.

Dr. Holloway, married to Dr. James A. Holloway, a neuropsychologist, resides in Sacramento. She attended public schools in Bakersfield. She received a Baccalaureate Degree in Elementary Education, a Master of Arts Degree in Guidance and Counseling and a Ph.D in Human Behavior.

Her professional experiences are broad. From 1954 to 1959 she taught in the Oakland Public Schools. During the summer of 1958, she was Project Coordinator-Institutional Service, "Girls Correctional Institution" (AFSC) in Alburquerque, New Mexico. From 1960-62, she was a counselor in the Oakland Public Schools. During the summer of 1960, she was a Fulbright Exchange Teacher in Cheshire, England. In 1962 she was also project director for Operation Crossroads in Africa, Ghana, West Africa. From 1963 to 1965, she was a consultant with the Bureau of Pupil Personnel Services, California State Department of Education. From 1965 to the present, Dr. Holloway is Chief, Bureau of Compensatory Education Program Development, Division of Compensatory Education, California State Department of Education. A few of her duties are to coordinate and supervise curriculum, program, staff and work with school districts, superintendents, project directors, State agencies, colleges and universities.

Dr. Holloway is affiliated with many organizations. She has spoken and lectured at numerous colleges, universities and conferences in and out of the state of California. She has participated in Department of Education national and state conventions, conferences and workshops in Arkansas, Hawii, Nevada, Trust Territories, Guam and Samoa to name a few.

She has travelled throughout the United States, Europe, the West Indies, Canada, Mexico, East and West Africa, the Middle, Near and Far East, including India, Pakistan, Bangkok, Burma, Hong Kong, Japan, Israel, Jordan and Istanbul.

Dr. Holloway, not only is an excellent speaker, but a writer. She has written several pamphlets, articles, bibliographies, a curriculum guide and a book.

Among her awards are Who's Who in America Education, 1969; Certificate of Recognition: Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Far Western Region; National Register of Prominent Americans; Scroll of Honor--Civic Womens Club Inc, (given in recognition of outstanding achievement in education, international relations and human relations); Outstanding Young Woman of America Publication, 1967 and Sacramento Woman of the Year, 1967.

Following Dr. Holloway's talk, she was presented three plaques for a "job well done", from Mrs. H.H.Lusk, representing Operation Shoestring, Seaside; Mrs. Mattye Blakney, representing the Cavalier Social Club and Mrs. Ann White, President of Parents Advisory Group of ESEA.

Honored guests, the 1970 and 1971 Debutantes, were each introduced and presented trophies. The President of the Monterey Peninsula Cotillion League, Mrs. Johnathan Beene, was also presented a trophy.

Hostesses, wearing ethnic dress, were Betty Mann, Fredrica Evans, Emma Loukaetis, Sara Ector, Betty Sapp, Mary Hobson, Margaret Kearns, Estella McKenzie and yours truly.

OMEGA MEN AND QUETTES CHOSE SWEETHEARTS

St. Valentine's day saw the Omega Men of the newly formed Omicron Nu Chapter of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc., extending sweetheart greetings to residents of the Seaside Convalescent Home. The program director, Brother Thomas Groce, chose the old time favorites, "Let Me Call you Sweetheart" and "Down by the Old Mill Stream," to restore old memories of days gone by. The residents participated in the sing-along and their expressins and gestures clearly indicated the restoration of those fond old memories. The "Beer Barrel Polka," played by Bro. Groce really stimulated the shaking of heads and the patting of feet.

The purpose of the visit was best described by the poem selection of Bro. Poe; "I Pass This Way But Once." The program ended with the singing of the Lord's Prayer.

The Count Captivates Audience

by Betty Mann

Mrs. Mary Story, mistress of ceremonies, opened the evening by thanking everyone who helped bring Basie and his band to the Peninsula. Those instrumental in making the concert possible included Jim Taylor, instructor of black studies at MPC; Dr. Merrill, Director of Community Services; Mrs. Story's Black Arts class, many of the local clubs and the staff of MPC.

When the Count took his place at the piano, the crowd gave him a standing ovation. They showed their appreciation for his great performance by giving him three more standing ovations during the evening.

The crowd responded wildly to the old-time favorities that the band presented. When the Count played the old standards, such as "One O'Clock Jumo" "I Cover the Waterfront," "April in Paris" and "Don't Get Around Much Anymore," the crowd was so quiet you could hear a pin drop.

Later in the concert, vocalist Mary Stallings charmed the swinging, "mixed" (young and old) crowd with pop songs, such as "My Cheri Amour" and C.C. Rider".

The entire evening proved that the Count and his band play music that is suited to the taste of many cultures. It was a very relaxing change of pace.

It was interesting watching the oldster's when the dancing began. The youngsters watched wide-eyed from the sideline as these swingers performed "The Balboa", "Charlston" and "Black-Bottom."

Following the dance, Mrs. Story said that her Black Arts class was going to try to bring a famous artist to the MPC campus at least once a year.

Grooving Around the Peninsula

with Betty Mann

Last weeks Monterey Peninsula Cotillion League's 2nd Annual Debutante Cotillion Ball was a resounding success! An estimated crowd of 650 persons attended this gala event, that was held February 13, in the Grand Ballroom of the Del Monte Hyatt House, Monterey.

Mrs. Jonathan J. Beene, President of the League, welcomed the elegantly dressed guests to the ball and thanked those who had contributed to the League's Scholarship Fund. A beautiful and sentimental candlelight ceremony highlighted the occassion. This ceremony was accomplished by (17) lovely young usherettes who wore three piece black formal attire. The three head ushers-Herman Edwards, Melbra Watts and Maurice Mann, Jr. wore formal attire.

Following this solemn ceremony, the debutantes of 1970 were introduced. Those present were: Miss Brenda Thomas, who is now attending Chapman College, Orange, California; Sandra Scott, attending UC Santa Cruz; Maurya Mann, attending Healds Business College, San Jose; Gail Turner, attending Los Angeles City College; Benita Valrey, who attends Monterey Peninsula College.

The Debutantes of 1970 entertained the guests with a talent show. Miss Brenda Thomas who is majoring in music did a solo, entitled "This Geneation! She was accompained by Mr. Marvin McKnight. Miss Celestine Harris, who is also a music scholar, charmed the audience with a piano selection. Sandra Scott, Maurya Mann, Gail Turner, and Melbra Watts performed an accomplished creative dance.

All five of the 1970 Debutantes serenaded the debs of 1971 with the theme song of this year's debs, "We've Only Just Begun." Mr. Elliott Whitfield, who was accompanied on the piano by Mr. Marvin McKnight, performed a solo in honor of the debutantes, entitled "Something."

The Master of Ceremonies for the evening was Dr. Henery Hutchins, who introduced the members of the League, honored guests and made the presentation of the 1971 Debutantes. Dr. Ruth Love Holloway, special invited guest of the League, who is in charge of program development for the State Department of Education Compensatory Education Division, Sacramento was introduced to the audience by Dr. Hutchins. Dr. Holloway later presented the "Miss Congeniality" trophy to Miss Elaine Russell, who was selected for the honor by her sister debs.

This was followed by the most exciting part of the evening the presentation of the debutantes. The 11 girls made their bow under an archway of white carnations. As each deb descended the steps from underneath the arch, she was greeted by her father or other representative.

Dr. Hutchins introduced the girls in the following order: Linda Rose Beene, escorted by Samuel Perkins, daughter of (Ret.) Maj. & Mrs. Jonathan J. Beene, Sr. , Demetria Hunter, escorted by Charles Brown, daughter of CSM (Ret) and Mrs. Grover Hunter; Jean Drummond, escorted by Glenwood Mapp, daughter of Lt. Col. (Ret.) and Mrs. Charles Drummond, Jr.; Elaine Russel, escorted by Dexter Galloway, daughter of S/Sgt. (Ret) and Mrs. Alfred Russell; Connie Ellis, escorted by Mike Rush, daughter of Mr. Theodore Ellis and Mrs. Dessie Ellis; Lydia Hampton escorted by Dwayne Eubanks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Hampton, Jr. ; Marrietta Hubbard, escorted by Charles Anderson, daughter of M/Sgt. and Mrs. Marvin Habbard; Rita Burden, escorted by William K. Hampton, III, daughter of SGM (Ret) and Mrs. Raymond Burden, Sr.; Nehwanda Allen, escorted by William Greenwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Allen; Cynthia Coleman, escorted by Ron Stuart, daughter of Sfc. (Ret) Thomas Coleman and Mrs. Celeste Coleman; Dorthea M. Reed, escorted by Jayson Brooks, daughter of Sfc. and Mrs. Warren Reed.

After the presentation the ceremoies continued with a graceful minuet performed by the degs and their escorts, which was followed by the debs dancing with their fathers and the escorts dancing with the debs mothers.

Music for the ball was furnished by the 87th Off Broadway Band, who played beautiful renditions of classical music during the ceremony and introductions, and later played delightful selections of contemporary rock for dancing.

Members of the league are; Mrs. Jonathan J. Beene, Sr. Pres.; Mrs. Raymond Burden, Vic. Pres.; Mrs. Raymond Thomas, Sr. , Recording Sect.; Mrs. Elliott A. Whitfield, Corresponding Sect.; Mrs. Dessie Ellis, Financial Sect.; Mrs. David Turner, Treas.; Mrs. Maurice Mann, Entertainment and Scholarship Chairman; Miss Betty J. 'Man of La Mancha' In Carmel Hailed by the New York Daily News critic as "the finest and most original work in our musical theatre", "Man of La Mancha" ranks with "Fiddler on the Roof", "Hello, Dolly" and My Fair Lady" as one of the thrilling superattractions of the modern musical theatre, being named best musical of the 1965 season by the New York Drama Critics' Circle, The Outer Circle, The Variety Poll and Saturday Review, as well as garnering numerous "Tony" awards.

Pilots Get Own Park

We have parks for swimmers and surfers, riders, and hikers, picnickers and campers, and even for underwater swimmers. Now, says State Parks and Recreation Director William Penn Mott Jr., we have one for pilots.

Any light aircraft pilot who lands at Borrego Spring Airport in San Diego County can pick up a copy of the new Anza Sky Trail brochure, which contains a carefully laid out flight path over the more interesting scenic features of Anza-Borrego Desert State Park. There are detailed flight instructions for following the sky trail together with a complete description of each of the important features.

"This is a new concept for California," Mott said, "and if it proves successful we are thinking of developing similar sky trail brochures for other portions of the state, such as Big Sur Coast, the redwoods and Lake Tahoe."

Geology Scholarship Established

A geological science scholarship to be awarded annually to a Monterey Peninsula College student has been established by the Carmel Valley Gem and Mineral Society.

Mrs. Murray Marshall, scholarship chairman for the society and an MPC professor emeritus who retired in 1968, says that $200 will be granted each year to a sophomore "whose chosen major is in the geological science field" and who is at the point of transferring as a junior to a four-year institution.

Applicants must be graduates of a Monterey Peninsula high school; must have completed courses at MPC which are required as preparation for their major and must have overall grade point averages of at least 2.4 plus 3.0 averages in their major courses.

Interested MPC students are urged to apply to the college's financial aid office as soon as possible. After April 15, the Gem and Mineral Society's scholarship committee will make a selection, notifying the recipient before June.

Enrollment Is Up at MPC

Monterey Peninsula College's spring enrollment - not yet completely tabulated but positive enough to indicate a trend - is up.

The information was disclosed at a recent meeting of the MPC board of trustees by Dr. Jack Bessire, dean of student personnel and Dr. Keith Merrill, dean of community education.

Daytime enrollment, they said, now stands at 3,282, slightly more than for the fall semester.

Evening enrollment, representing an increase of about 33 per cent over last fall, is 2,685.

Both increases are "rare," according to deans, since fall enrollment is traditionally higher.

Dr. Merrill also said he anticipated heavy summer session enrollments, telling the board that last summer's "highly successful" creative arts institutes will be repeated this year, that musician Istvan Nadas will return as "artist-in-residence" and that evening classes, which seem to be particularly popular in the summer, will be increased in number.

In other business, the trustee authorized President George J. Faul to draw up a contract which, if certain conditions are agreed upon, would permit Golden Gate College of San Francisco to offer upper division and graduate courses at MPC "as an experiment on a yearly basis."

Joy of Love Explained

The joy that comes from the unselfish love Christ Jesus called for and demonstrated will be brough out in Christian Science churches Sunday. Services begin at 11 a.m.

Scriptural readings in the Lesson - Sermons on "Christ Juesus" will include the Master's words: "These things I have spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full. This is my commandment That ye love one another, as I have loved you."

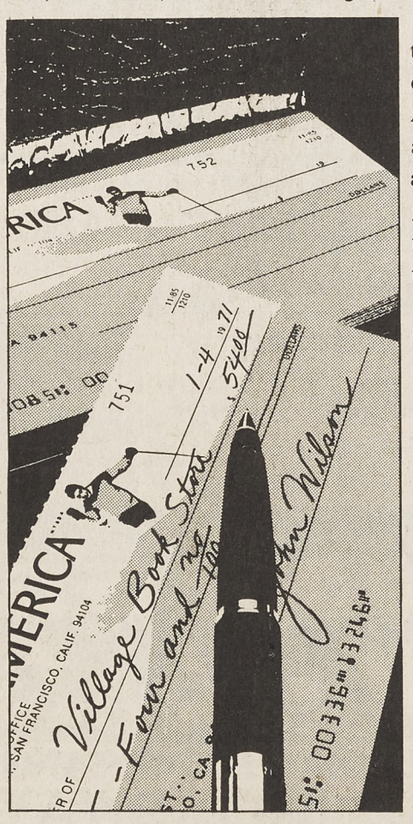
Instant Cash helps put an end to the bouncing check!

You don't write a bouncing check on purpose. But sometimes it happens. (Maybe you didn't put in a deposit when you thought you did. Or, maybe you slipped up on addition in your check register.) And there you are, faced with a statement that says you've made an overdraft. It can be irritating. And, sometimes, even embarrassing.



This is why Bank of America put together some overdraft insurance called Instant Cash Checking Account Service. Once you've applied and your credit's been approved, you have an automatic guarantee against overdrafts up to the amount authorized under the terms of the agreement. Your checks won't bounce and you'll save yourself a lot of irritation and frustration.

Sound good? It is. Drop by your nearest Bank of America branch for more information about a Personal Choice Checking Account combined with Instant Cash. It's just one of the many ways we can help you with the business of living.
